

Third Grade is Having Fun with Reading!

This month the third grade students read a fiction chapter book of their choice and created a character in a can. Students selected a character from the story and decorated a can to look like him/her. They took the project a step further and filled the can with the problem, solution, and interesting facts about the character.

Their creativity is amazing!

